

Air Waybill Delivery Service

By participating in our innovative AWB-stock delivery service via the internet airlines will have the benefits of saving time and cost for their AWB distribution to the cargo-agents. Airlines staff will be relieved from labour-intensive routine-processes and thus can contribute to an increase in productivity while concentrate on the core business. Further the quality and speed of AWB delivery will increase as well as the workflows will be optimised. Customer satisfaction of agents will enhance due to the 24 hour order option.

The cargo agencies receive a login and password and can enter the webpage www.awb-order.com. There they can easily order their needed AWB-number sequences. Agents orders are matched with a database were airlines rules and regulations for AWB allocations are stored.

Air Waybill Delivery Service Process

Limitations and authorisations for single agents as well as for agent groups and chains, the maximum number of AWBs per allocation, the quantity of allowed orders per day, week and month, will be determined. Furthermore agents can be blocked from AWB distribution. The risks of over-delivery and double delivery of AWBs to various agents do no longer exist.

All delivered AWB-numbers can be monitored and analysed via the internet around-the-clock. Airlines and agents have a complete overview and control of all their allocated and received AWB numbers.

Many international airlines are using the advantages of this service. The service is available worldwide and is currently conducted in Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Spain.
